Forward Looking Statement Disclaimer

Please read the following information before reviewing the information contained herein:

This presentation contains forward-looking statements, which are included in accordance with the “safe harbor” provisions of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. In some cases, you can identify forward-looking statements by terminology such as “may,” “will,” “should,” “could,” “expects,” “plans,” “intends,” “anticipates,” “believes,” “estimates,” “predicts,” “potential,” or “continue,” or the negative of such terms and other comparable terminology. Although we believe that the expectations reflected in the forward-looking statements are reasonable, we cannot guarantee future results, levels of activity, performance or achievements. All statements other than statements of historical fact are “forward-looking statements” for purposes of federal and state securities laws, including, but not limited to, statements about anticipated future operating and financial performance, financial position and liquidity, business strategies, regulatory and competitive outlook, investment and expenditure plans, capital and financing needs and availability, plans and objectives of management for future operations, developments regarding our capital plans and other similar forecasts and statements of expectation and statements of assumption underlying any of the foregoing. These statements involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors that may cause our actual results, levels of activity, performance or achievements to differ from those expressed or implied by the forward-looking statement. These factors include the following: inability to continue as a going concern; inability to raise additional capital on acceptable terms or at all; failure to maintain adequate levels of capital and liquidity to support our operations; the effect of regulatory orders we have entered into and potential future supervisory action against us or Hanmi Bank; general economic and business conditions internationally, nationally and in those areas in which we operate; volatility and deterioration in the credit and equity markets; changes in consumer spending, borrowing and savings habits; availability of capital from private and government sources; demographic changes; competition for loans and deposits and failure to attract or retain loans and deposits; fluctuations in interest rates and a decline in the level of our interest rate spread; risks of natural disasters related to our real estate portfolio; risks associated with Small Business Administration loans; failure to attract or retain key employees; changes in governmental regulation, including, but not limited to, any increase in FDIC insurance premiums; ability to receive regulatory approval for Hanmi Bank to declare dividends to Hanmi Financial; adequacy of our allowance for loan losses, credit quality and the effect of credit quality on our provision for credit losses and allowance for loan losses; changes in the financial performance and/or condition of our borrowers and the ability of our borrowers to perform under the terms of their loans and other terms of credit agreements; our ability to successfully integrate acquisitions we may make; our ability to control expenses; and changes in securities markets. In addition, we set forth certain risks in our reports filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”), including, in particular Item 1A of our Form 10K for the year ended December 31, 2010, as well as current and periodic reports filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission hereafter, which could cause actual results to differ from those projected. We undertake no obligation to update such forward-looking statements except as required by law.

Korean-American Banking Opportunity

- Large Korean-American population in the U.S. with concentration in key markets
 - Los Angeles is home to the largest Korean-American population in the U.S.
 - Other key markets include New York, New Jersey, Chicago, Texas, Seattle and Atlanta
- Continuing influx of Korean immigrants and funds from the ratification of the Visa Waiver Program and Korea's liberal foreign investment policies
- Business ownership among Korean-Americans is 60% greater than the national average⁽¹⁾
- Aging of first generation Korean-Americans creates substantial fee-based revenue opportunities: retirement planning and wealth management
- Recently ratified by the U.S., the Free Trade Agreement with Korea may bolster trade between the two countries providing opportunities for increased trade finance lending

Dramatic Credit Improvement

- Hanmi has aggressively managed its problem assets in the past two years
- Executed note sales rather than time consuming and labor intensive foreclosures
- This aggressive asset resolution strategy has resulted in a 82% and 53% decline in NPAs and classified loans, respectively, from peak levels
- NPAs declined 64.1% year-over-year to $52.6 million or 1.91% of total assets, from $146.5 million, or 5.04% of total assets at the end of 2010

Source: Derived from Company's 10-K and 10-Q's.
(Classified loans are adjusted for $50.4 million NPLs current on payments and $12.5 million SBA-guaranteed NPLs.)

Conservatively Marked Portfolio

- As of 4Q11, NPLs have been charged down to 69% of original principal balances
- Net of specific reserves, NPLs are being carried at approximately 59% of original principal balances
- Hanmi has sold approximately $321 million of NPLs at 57% of original principal balances in the past eight quarters
